

Welcome!

I'm Taro Routly, a 20 year old multimedia artist who specializes in web design and development attending Algonquin College's Interactive Media Design program.

Our Mission

The intersection of art and technology is an unending bid of excitement that we at tarobytez aim to explore the depths of. Through websites, animation, illustrations and games, we thrive on innovation through the creative and technical process.

Celestial Dining
For my Design Processes class, we were tasked with coming up with a restaurant idea, and creating a full brand identity for it.

Crowrigami Takes Flight
Using Blender 3D I wanted to transfer real life origami into 3D animation with shape keys. Inspired by the podcast Trials & Trebuchets.

D20 Zine Jam 2023
In 2023, I co-ran a zine of works about disabled characters in Dropout's Dimension 20, as a part of the annual D20 Zine Jam for charity.

Rantly Productions
In parody of the Pixar lamp, and homage to my childhood "production" company, I made my own animation of my cane bouncing on the screen.
